BEST PRACTICE -2

Title of the practice: Vachana Kammata – A value added course

Objective of the Practice:

- To make students to be aware of the preaching and teachings of social reformers and saint poets who wanted to establish a gender equality and casteless society.
- To instil values among the students by studying the Vachanas,
- To encourage students to inculcate moral and spiritual values.
- To promote students to inculcate social values and responsibilities.
- To become model citizen.

The Context:

The modern society which is preoccupied with material progress needs to study and Follow and practice the preaching of great saints and social reformers of our country. Lord Basaveshwara-a social reformer in 12th century initiated a great social reform with the aim of fighting inequality based on caste, gender, etc. His teachings have a great relevance in the present context. Therefore, the students are very much required to study the life history and preachings and their contributions to the society. The teachings of the saint points has left a long lasting effect on the generations of people for centuries together.

So our young generation are the future of our country, should also develop moral and Ethical practices in their life in this materialism modern world. Therefore, our college conducts VachanaKammata – an examination on poems of these great saint poets Every year.

The Practice :

Hundreds of students study the life history, preachings and practices of these social reformers and take the examination. Every students shows much interest in this vachanakammata examination. It is not a marks oriented examination for the sake of obtaining a job but only for developing moral and ethical values in their lives. The stress is laid upon improving the ethical values among the students rather than just acquiring a certificate.

Evidence of Success:

- Even though the test is not compulsory but almost all the students take voluntarily This examination and shown much enthusiasm.
- Every year, fresh students take much interest in taking this examination as this Particular value added course is not mandatory. This shows that the young people are really interested in inculcating values in their lives by studying the vachanas, i.e., literature of saint poets and social reformers.
